Old Business

Our participation in Operation Wings and Wheels to benefit Roots for Boots was an overwhelming success. We had audiences for all of our flights. There was a line of people to fly the simulator. Tom thanked all that attended and helped out. We have been invited back for next year's event.

There was a discussion on what things could have been done better and what we wanted to do for next year. This discussion has been tabled till it is closer to next year's Operation Wings and Wheels event.

New Business

There was a discussion concerning the generator. Our current site will allow direct access to both electric and water once the pit area is grated and rolled. The question was raised on whether or not to keep it. Since it is not the best idea to store it indefinitely, it has been decided to look into selling it.
